LAMPS—BravePoint's Lightweight Association Management Processing System!

Keeping member information current is one of the biggest challenges for managers of REALTOR® associations—particularly when member status depends on data in separate systems that change constantly.

Now, thanks to BravePoint's new Lightweight Association Management Processing System (LAMPS), association management just got easier and more convenient.

LAMPS is capable of combining information entered from members, member organizations and association managers to maintain a member status list that is always current...and always correct.

Internet Convenience

LAMPS has two entirely Web-based modules—an Intranet site accessible only to your association's administrative team and a component that REALTORS® can use to submit information over the Internet.

Built using Microsoft's innovative .NET framework and XML, the application can be easily integrated with your association enterprise system.

So Much Easier—with LAMPS!

Associations are already using LAMPS to manage many repetitive tasks.
